

4 Ways to Accelerate Sales and Improve Your Customer Experience with Cloud Communications

DIGITAL INTERACTIONS HAVE SKYROCKETED IN POPULARITY, TRANSFORMING INDUSTRIES FOREVER – AND THAT INCLUDES AUTO SALES.

A fully integrated cloud communications platform significantly enhances customer experience, outreach, and engagement both within and beyond the dealership. Personalized customer interactions are essential for your success, as today's customer expects quick, seamless responses tailored to their needs. With the right communications platform, you can deliver this personalized experience from initial inquiry to price negotiations to after-sales service, creating a stronger customer connection and building trust.

Let's take a look at how a digital-first communications model improves sales, service, and the customer experience by integrating our Unified Communications (UC) platform with Dealer Management Systems (DMS) to deliver personalized service solutions and streamline dealership operations.

SALES: MOBILE SALES

Unified Communications to boost sales efficiency.

Empower your sales team to be effective – whether at their desks, on the showroom floor, or roaming the lot. This means empowering them to answer customer inquiries on any device and from any channel. Stepping away from the desk? No problem. Transitioning to a video call? It's easy.

Our UC is an integrated communications platform that personalizes the buying experience and enables your sales team to easily connect with prospective buyers. Effortlessly switch between text messaging, phone calls, and video chats. Answer inbound calls from the desk phone, move to mobile, and use video conferencing to virtually walk clients through your inventory. Need to provide additional vehicle or model information? Upload video content or use the meeting app to take notes. Your customers can choose their preferred communication methods while your sales team is always ready to engage across any channel on any device.

Benefits

Enhanced customer service

Never miss important calls or texts, and seamlessly move between your desk, showroom, and lot with our Mobile App for prompt customer responses.

SERVICE: APPOINTMENT SCHEDULING

Quickly and efficiently schedule service appointments.

Your customers expect a simple and convenient way to schedule service appointments without the frustration of dropped or misrouted calls and lengthy hold times. You aim to secure more appointments while reducing no-shows and cancellations. With our Contact Center solution, scheduling becomes effortless. Customize call flows and use automatic attendant or live transfers to route calls to the right reps for efficient interactions and scheduling. Eliminate busy signals with smart queuing, and keep customers engaged in the queue with music and messages promoting seasonal service specials or upcoming events.

Once the service is completed, you can proactively deliver timely – and if needed, repeated – reminders of upcoming appointments, recalls, and check-ups with Dynamic Notifications. Analyze call data, including volumes and hold times, to gain valuable insights into call trends, enabling you to optimize staffing and enhance service levels throughout the dealership and in the service department.

The result? Streamlined scheduling and effective service reminders lead to increased customer satisfaction and foster long-term customer loyalty.

CUSTOMER EXPERIENCE: ENHANCED ENGAGEMENT

Communicate through customers' preferred channels (phone, chat, text, video).

Today's consumers spend more time researching online before visiting a dealership, leading to an increase in digital interactions. To stay competitive, you must evolve from traditional brick-and-mortar operations to engaging digital experiences. Customers expect seamless and quick communication with you through various channels, including text, email, phone, and video calls. They may switch between these channels based on their needs. If connecting with you requires too many steps or involves long hold times, the likelihood of losing those customers significantly rises. Embracing a fully integrated communications platform allows you to meet these expectations and improve overall customer engagement.

Our UC enhances customer interactions across various channels by integrating chat, SMS, video conferencing, phone calls, screen sharing, and more. With our UC, you can efficiently respond to customer inquiries through a single platform, delivering the seamless digital service and support that today's customers expect. This integrated approach ensures consistent communication and fosters stronger relationships with your clientele.

PERSONALIZED INTERACTIONS: OUR UC INTEGRATION WITH AUTO DEALER MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS

Our UC platform has integrations with some of the most popular Dealer Management Systems (DMS), providing personalized customer interactions and seamless customer connections.

As an automotive dealership, efficient operations and outstanding, personalized customer service are essential to maintaining a competitive edge. The UC and Dealer Management System (DMS) integration, enables a highly personalized, informed customer experience, by connecting real-time access to DMS-stored customer data through our UC's platform.

This integration provides a 'Phone Alert' feature that streamlines operations by displaying relevant customer information on an agent's screen as soon as a call is received. This includes customer history, preferences, and previous interactions. With Phone Alert, agents can deliver a more personalized experience without needing to search for details, ultimately saving time and improving customer satisfaction by addressing needs quickly and efficiently.

By integrating our UC with your DMS, your dealership can transition from traditional brick-and-mortar operations to digitally connected, omnichannel experiences. This all-in-one approach empowers you to engage customers consistently across channels, delivering the streamlined, customer-first service that today's buyers demand.
